The observatory will encompass the top three floors of the Prudential Tower.

Project highlights include:

- Immersive experiential exhibits and bistro on the 50th floor
- Indoor/outdoor cocktail lounge and 360-degree outdoor viewing deck on the 51st floor
- Double height (24-foot) indoor viewing space on the 52nd floor

The observatory, newly named View Boston for its expansive and panoramic views of Boston and beyond, will be a transformative addition to the City of Boston. The observatory is designed to be a destination that welcomes locals as well as domestic and international visitors. View Boston will host a variety of special events and public programming geared towards guests of all ages and backgrounds, and will be the ideal stop for visitors as they begin their Boston experience.

"We are thrilled to bring this unparalleled experience to Boston and create unforgettable memories in the sky for visitors through an experience that captures all five of your senses," said Bryan Koop, Executive Vice President, Boston Region, BXP. "View Boston will be a destination for years to come and a place for visitors to see the City from afar before they explore the many neighborhoods and attractions that make Boston a city like no other."

Prudential Center is a dynamic urban center in the heart of Boston's Back Bay. Comprising four office towers and a shopping and dining destination, the complex is conveniently accessible from I-90 and I-93 and is located within two blocks of Back Bay Station with commuter rail, Amtrak, and MBTA subway access.

View Boston is being constructed by Turner Construction Co. and Perkins & Will is the architect of record.
