February 16, 2022

Initial 390,000 Square Feet of Planned 1.1 Million Square Foot Urban Office Campus Expected to Deliver in Late 2024

BOSTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Feb. 16, 2022-- Boston Properties, Inc. (NYSE: BXP), the largest publicly traded developer, owner, and manager of Class A office properties in the United States, announced today that construction has resumed on the first phase of the Platform 16 development project in San Jose. The first phase of the development will include the construction of an approximately 390,000 square foot Class A creative office building, which is expected to be ready for client fit-out in late 2024, and a below-grade parking garage.

BXP owns a 55% interest in, and provides development, property management, and leasing services to the joint venture that owns Platform 16. Canada Pension Plan Investment Board (CPP Investments) owns the remaining 45% interest.

Platform 16 is a fully entitled, 1.1 million square foot Class A, creative office campus located in downtown San Jose on an approximately 5.6 acre site. The development is adjacent to Google's planned eight million square foot Downtown West and Diridon Station, a major Bay Area transportation hub. Designed by Kohn Pederson Fox, the urban campus will include three buildings, 16 private outdoor terraces with unobstructed views of the city, two pedestrian plazas for social gatherings and corporate events, and onsite amenities, including a large fitness and wellness center and a café. The development will have immediate access to the adjacent Guadalupe River Park, as well as various retail and restaurant amenities.

"We are thrilled to have recommenced construction at Platform 16," said Bob Pester, Executive Vice President, San Francisco Region, BXP. "The larger South Bay community, and San Jose specifically, continues to see demand for high-quality, creative workspaces outpace supply. Platform 16 combines an ideal location with the design and amenities that today's most innovative firms are seeking to recruit, retain, and motivate their workforces."

"Boston Properties' investment in our city reflects San José's continued desirability as a hub for jobs and economic growth," said Mayor Sam Liccardo. "Platform 16's design, amenities, and access to Guadalupe River Park will allow the Downtown West area near Diridon Station to flourish and attract high-tech tenants and talent for years to come."
