Item 2.01. Completion of Acquisition or Disposition of Assets.

On May 31, 2013, the two existing joint venture partners of Boston Properties, Inc. (the "Company") in the entity that owns the General Motors Building in New York City transferred all of their interests in the joint venture to third parties, Sungate Fifth Avenue LLC and 767 LLC. The transfer did not have any impact on the Company's economic interest in the joint venture, and the Company will continue to own a 60% interest in the joint venture and provide property management and leasing services for the joint venture. However, in connection with the transfer, the Company and its new joint venture partners modified their relative decision making authority and consent rights with respect to the joint venture's assets and operations. These changes will result in the Company having sufficient financial and operating control over the joint venture such that the Company and Boston Properties Limited Partnership, the entity through which the Company conducts substantially all of its business (the "Partnership"), will consolidate the joint venture in their financial statements.

Previously, the Company's investment in the joint venture was reported on an unconsolidated basis under the equity method of accounting because the joint venture was not a variable interest entity and the joint venture partners had substantive participating rights with respect to the joint venture's assets and operations. As a result of the transfers, for accounting purposes, the changes to the Company's and its new joint venture partners' rights will be treated by the Company and the Partnership as a disposition of their previous investment in the joint venture and a new acquisition by the Company and the Partnership of all of the assets and liabilities of the joint venture. Following the date on which these changes were made to the respective decision making authority and consent rights, the Company and the Partnership will include all of the assets and liabilities and results of operations of the joint venture in its consolidated financial statements, and its joint venture partners' interests will be reflected as noncontrolling interests. This will result in a significantly different accounting presentation of the Company's and the Partnership's investment in the joint venture, although their economic interest in the joint venture will remain substantially the same as it was prior to the date the changes to the Company's and its joint venture partners' rights were made.

Item 8.01. Other Events.

On May 30, 2013, a joint venture in which the Company has a 60% interest completed the previously announced sale of its 125 West 55th Street property located in New York City for a sale price of $470.0 million, including the assumption by the buyer of the mortgage loan collateralized by the property totaling approximately $198.6 million. 125 West 55th Street is a Class A office property totaling approximately 588,000 net rentable square feet.
